

Open Streets: a public-private partnership to promote Non-Motorised Transport

TUMI Africa Workshop
27 November 2018

Open Streets movement in Cape Town

Reimagining streets collaboratively

Space for experiencing alternative mobility

Space for experiencing alternative mobility

Experiential learning

Experiential learning

Experiential learning

Creating positive NMT experiences

Partnership with City of Cape Town

Partnership with City of Cape Town

A public private partnership

Working with communities across Cape Town

Working with communities across Cape Town

PORTLANDS

Locals, visitors step out to reimagine life on the road

Thousands of people stepped to celebrate the launch of the new bike lanes across the city, which took place during Portland's first annual 'Portland' festival.

Thousands of people stepped out to celebrate the launch of the new bike lanes across the city, which took place during Portland's first annual 'Portland' festival. The event featured live music, food, and a parade. The new bike lanes are a key part of the city's plan to improve its transportation system.

Over thousands of people of all ages, backgrounds and nationalities gathered to see and share in the excitement of the new bike lanes. The event was held during the first annual 'Portland' festival, featuring live music, food, and a parade.

The Lopez and Abadeno families.

A woman speaking at the podium at the start of the event.

Big Sister, Corbin and their friends.

Thousands of people and visitors came together for a day of fun, art to see and all the new bike lanes.

Visitors watch a performance by local artists.

Robert and Sarah Larkin.

Shirley Brown and Matt Harris.

Visitors watch a stage performance.

Michelle Lopez, Amber Rodriguez and Luciano Araya.

Andrew Taylor, Shalyn Longo and Christine with Robert Jones.

David, Leah, Jill and Jennifer Matthews.

David Courtes, Marlon, Mikahela Alex Torres and David Peterson.

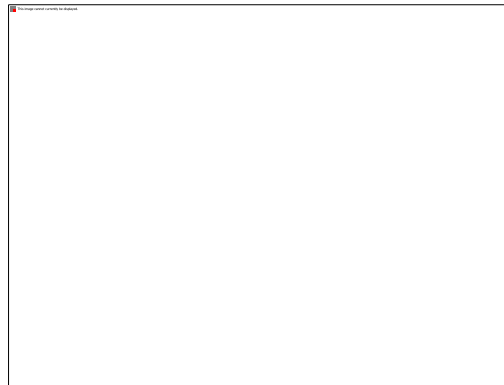

Members of the Portland's Park Team standing with...

Some of the volunteers who were working on the event.

Working with civil society on the ground

Open Streets Exchange

Open Streets Exchange

Open Streets Exchange

Open Streets Exchange

Open Streets Exchange

Open Streets Exchange

 www.openstreets.org.za

 info@openstreets.co.za

 @OpenStreetsCT

 OpenStreetsCapeTown

